

PRIMUS ENGINEERING

Boys—Make something real!

Ask Dad or Mum to give you Primus, or save up for it, and get it yourself. P.R.I.M.U.S. that's how to spell it. It makes models that are real; there's no pretending that something's what it isn't;

where there's wood in the real thing there are wooden parts in Primus.

There's as much fun and instruction in Primus as there is in a "stinks" lecture. See that crane?

that was made of Primus—all the other models are as good as that.

Primus is made of standardised parts in wood and metal. Plates, girders, wheels, axles, nuts, bolts, angle pieces, trunnions; everything a real engineer requires.

The popular outfit price, 25/-, contains 267 wood and metal parts and makes endless models. Smaller sets cost 7/6 and 10/6. Larger outfits from 45/- upwards.
